 This thread discusses the Content article: Competition to name a strain of cannabis **

Caned In Totnes in association with the Dr Hemp Seed Co are running a competition to name a brand new female strain of cannabis. Dr Hemp is so stoned he cannot be arsed to think up a name himself, so he's decided to run a competition to get you to do it for him.

A panel of expert stoners will choose the best name to give this new strain of cannabis from the competition entries we receive and the lucky winner will also win a free packet of the new strain of seeds, plus a packet of Dr Hemp Blueberry x Power Plant.

To help you come up with a name, here are some more details about the seed strain.:

- The seeds will be 100% female
- 20% Sativa, 80% Indica
- Flowering time 60-65 days
- Outdoor harvest in mid October
- It is a cross between AK47 and Bubblegum with a THC level of 16%

This plant has a long genetic trajectory, is a hybrid established from a big selection of strains. A plant with big harvest, very resistant, she adapts to every kind of substrate. The high, is narcotic, like the ones which the old growers remember.

To enter the competition, please fill in this form.
