Gordon brown dies and comes before god,
god says "Now Gordorn you have a choice do you want to go to heaven or hell",
"Brown says "heaven of course"
"I have to show you first" replies god

So first is hell, it is a beautiful country club all of Browns labour party friends are standing around drinking champagne and eating fine foods, everything is fantastic.

Next god shows him heaven It is full of normal people the food is nice but not expensive everything is mediocre, nothing is extravagant like hell.

So god asks "where do you want to go then Gordon"
"hell" replies Gordon
"very well" says god

So Brown arrives in hell it is a full of fire, all of Browns old labour friends are being sodomised with hot pokers there is no wealth or happiness.

And Brown says to the devil "But yesterday it wasn't like this it looked fantastic"

And the devil replied "yesterday we were after your vote, today you have us"
